Dermopal Hosts The Glow Inside Out Masterclass to Celebrate Melanin-Rich Skin

A South African skincare brand Dermopal, known for its anti-blemish and sun protection products made especially for ethnic skin, recently hosted its Glow Inside Out Masterclass, an event focused on celebrating and caring for melanin-rich skin. The masterclass brought together skincare lovers, wellness enthusiasts, and professionals for an inspiring and educational experience designed to help guests better understand their skin and how to take care of it.

The event featured expert-led sessions on how to care for melanin-rich skin. Attendees learned about common concerns such as blemishes, hyperpigmentation, and sun protection, with practical advice tailored to darker skin tones. Dermopal's team, along with skincare and wellness professionals, shared useful information to help guests build healthy and effective skincare routines. They also debunked myths, and empowered guests to make informed, confident skincare choices.

Alongside the skincare education, guests enjoyed a luxury wellness experience in a calm, stylish setting. The event created a relaxing space where attendees could focus on self-care and learn more about how overall wellness supports healthy skin. Each guest also received a goodie bag filled with Dermopal products, allowing them to take the experience home and continue their skincare journey with confidence. The event ended with a networking session, where attendees connected with the Dermopal team, met guest speakers, and shared stories and tips with one another.

The Glow Inside Out Masterclass is part of Dermopal's ongoing commitment to supporting and celebrating melanin-rich skin. Through more events like this, Dermopal aims to continue offering expert advice, quality products, and spaces where people can feel empowered in their skincare journey.
