

A photograph of two young Black women with large, voluminous afro hairstyles. They are smiling and looking towards the camera. The woman on the left is wearing a pink, textured, off-the-shoulder top and a silver necklace. The woman on the right is wearing a white, ribbed, tank top. They are surrounded by lush green foliage.

MILLENNIAL WOMAN MAGAZINE

Self-Love Exclusive

A healthy love affair with your hair, the Native Child way

A healthy love affair with your hair, the Native Child way

Hair care is more than just a routine, it's a relationship. At Native Child, the focus is on nurturing a long-term, healthy connection with hair, ensuring it remains strong, hydrated, and full of life. Just like any great love story, hair requires attention, commitment, and the best possible care to flourish. This season, Native Child is sharing expert tips on how to show hair some extra love with essential products designed to keep curls hydrated, protected, and thriving.

Here is the Perfect Haircare Routine for Healthy Strands:

1)The Power Couple: Shampoo & Conditioner

A true match made in hair heaven; the Native Child Shampoo & Conditioner work together to cleanse the hair without stripping it of its natural moisture. This dynamic duo ensures a fresh, healthy scalp while keeping strands nourished and soft.

2)Moisture equals Love: Milk & Honey Crème

Hydration is essential for maintaining healthy curls, and Native Child's Milk & Honey Crème delivers deep moisture to prevent dryness and breakage. Formulated to soften and strengthen, this product ensures that every strand receives the nourishment it needs.

3)Commit to Growth: Castor Oil

Thicker, stronger hair starts at the roots. Native Child's Castor Oil is rich in nutrients that promote hair growth, reduce breakage, and strengthen the scalp. This essential oil provides the care and protection needed for long-lasting, healthy strands.

4)Protection Is Key: Whipped Shea Butter

Sealing in moisture is crucial for maintaining hydrated, healthy hair. Native Child's Whipped Shea Butter acts as a protective shield, locking in nourishment and safeguarding hair from environmental damage and dryness.

Essential Hair Care Tips

For those looking to take their hair care routine to the next level, Native Child recommends:

- ✓ Deep conditioning weekly for added hydration and strength
- ✓ Trimming when necessary to prevent split ends
- ✓ Wrapping hair in silk or satin overnight to protect against breakage
- ✓ Using gentle, nourishing products to maintain hair health

Native Child is a proudly South African brand dedicated to providing premium hair and personal care products designed specifically for natural hair. With a focus on community empowerment and self-love, the brand inspires individuals to embrace their authentic beauty with confidence.